

Revisions Timeline 2022-2023

As the Great Start to Quality process is being revised to focus more on quality improvement there will be a period of time in which providers are unable to complete tasks inside STARS in order to maintain their current rating to support the transition to the new model.

Expiring Ratings

All providers whose star rating expires between September 1, 2022, and April 30, 2023, are encouraged to submit their Self-Assessment Survey (SAS) as early as possible if they wish to come through the current process.

Here are some important dates to consider in determining next steps to take:

December 1, 2022 - February 1, 2023

There will be a period of time where STARS will not be fully accessible in order for the full upgrade to be complete. This timeframe has not yet been determined but will be shared once that is finalized. During this time, users will be able to access their Organization Profile to update all information.

February 1, 2023

A new quality improvement process will be in place for all users through the newly labeled Quality Improvement tab in MiRegistry.

Providers with a current published rating will maintain their star rating through the transition, unless their rating expires. For those programs who are in the rating process, after the deadline to submit a Self-Assessment Survey (see the tables above), only those in the In Validation and SAS Incomplete statuses will be processed through to a published rating. Rating cases in all other statuses will be cancelled on October 14.

Currently rated programs will have access to their most recent SAS or Validation report to reference in the system within their Organization Profile once they are ready to begin the new quality improvement process.
